Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Acknowledgment

1. This Office Action is responsive to the Amendment filed on 10/16/06.

Accordingly, claims 1-7 and 21 are pending in this application.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 6, 7 and 21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The recitation of "the first FPGA" recited in claim 6, lines 1-2 lacks antecedent basis.

The recitation of "the first ASIC" recited in claim 7, lines 1-2 lacks antecedent basis.

The recitation of "a first vector" recited in claim 21, line 6 is confusing because it appears that it is referring to the same "first vector" as recited at line 3. Therefore, the recitation of "the first vector" is suggested for "a first vector" recited at line 6.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

5. Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Kelly (2004/0057503).

Regarding claim 1, Kelly, as shown in figures 1, 3 and 4, teaches system comprising a first rotator (108), first gain device (112), first limiter (124) and second rotator (142). See also paragraphs [0020] and [0023].

Regarding claims 2-7, Kelly further teaches CORDIC can be used as the rotators, which can be implemented using ASIC or any other form IC based on the current technology. Therefore, Kelly can also anticipate the FPGA. See also figures 3 and 4 and paragraphs [0016] and [0026] – [0028].

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claim 21 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action.

Conclusion

7. References Corleto et al (6,192,089), Rahman (2003/0174641), and Zehavi et al (2004/0013209) are cited because they are pertinent to the receiver having rotators.

However, none of the cited references teaches or suggests, in combination, the arrangements of the method steps of providing a first vector, rotating the first vector, limiting the first magnitude and rotating the second vector in order to form a method for efficiently limiting a vector magnitude as recited in claim 21.
